

Akshara - The RGS Literary Fest 2018

Royal Global School hosted its annual Literary Fest “Akshara” on 20 & 21 December 2018 amidst great fervor and anticipation. Aply themed – “Pushing the Limits- Graphic Story-Telling and Beyond” the program comprised of a panel discussion by eminent writers- Parismta Singh, Rakhi Moral, Dr Nilakshi Goswami as well as a flurry of competitive events each of which put to test the creative and artistic mettle of the participants. The discussion was moderated by actor director and columnist Sattyakee D’com Bhuyan who is also a faculty of Royal Global School. The Guests of Honor on the occasion were renowned cartoonist and currently the mastermind behind the JocoSeries in The Assam Tribune, Mr Champak Borbora as well as Actor & Story-Teller par excellence, Mr Pabitra Rabha. It was truly heartening to see young and aspiring students from various schools showcasing their talent and making their school proud in events ranging from Street Plays, Declamation, Advertisement and Jingle Creation, Caricature, Dance & Singing Competition and the like. Each of the schools was assigned names of different authors to create an ambience of equality and fairness in the competition.

Sarla Birla Gyan Jyoti bagged the prestigious title of Best School & Best Team while Royal Global School came a close second.

The Program concluded on a promising note of an even better illustration of creative genius in the following years to come.
